My friends,

There seems so much to say that I am not sure where to begin. I was very gratified to hear of your survival following the incident with the comet SH-01 in the Gobi Desert. I have discovered, as (I assume) have you, that the memories of certain parties peripherally involved with the incident have been, shall we say, selectively altered. I briefly considered investigating the phenomenon, but decided that after everything I've seen, and everything I have been through with all of you, that some things are indeed better left unexplained. I am simply grateful that I have been restored to my prior status in the Company, and that the group of you are also returned to your old lives.

And yet, I cannot help but feel that somehow nothing will ever be the same. I wonder if all who open the doors I have opened feel the same way, but I can tell you one thing—after the adventure we shared, battling terrorists and foreign governments is going to be a welcome change back towards the mundane. Admittedly, our acquaintance got off to a somewhat rocky beginning, but were it not for you, I might think myself mad or delusional regarding the events that we shared. It's nice to know that there are others I can call upon, should I ever encounter incidents like this in the future.

I owe you my life, several times over, and whether they realize it or not, the world owes you a debt of gratitude. You have a friend in high places, now. If ever you need my services (covert as they may be) you can get in touch with me via the pay phone at the corner of Forbes Avenue and Craig Street. Simply pick it up, say that you need me, then hang up and go home. Someone will contact you presently. I would ask, as a personal favor, that you use this connection only in times of the most dire emergency, and remember that my resources as a field agent are somewhat limited, though I will always do what I can to assist you in time of need. I'm sure I can count on the same from you.

I suppose that's all for the time being. I wanted to let you know, in case you were concerned, that I am alive and well, and back to work. I hope to see all of you again, preferably under less dire circumstances.

Yours,

Timothy Ekloff

Timothy Ekloff (aka Rogue 01)

P.S. John and Cyan: my sincerest condolences on the loss of your child. If there is anything I can do, let me know. Try and remember, with each new day rises a new opportunity. Keep fighting the good fight.

NOTE: THIS IS NOT AN OFFICIAL CIA DOCUMENT. IT IS A GAME PROP
AND SHOULD NOT BE MISCONSTRUED AS ANYTHING ELSE. THANK YOU.
